The process of moving from the family home can seem daunting and confusing for many people with an intellectual disability, and their families. Araluen can help you to research, prepare and make the move so you can take one of life’s major steps with the right support.

This service can be provided to you if you have NDIS Support Coordination funding that has been approved for the purpose of “moving out of home”.

Explore better living choices and find a home to love!
Everybody needs a happy, safe, comfortable place to call home. Fortunately, group living arrangements are no longer the only option for people with intellectual disabilities who want to live more independently.

With Araluen Housing Options, you can explore a wide range of modern housing choices, thanks to NDIS funding. Affordable, tailored living could be more possible than you imagined!

How does this work?

Araluen Housing Options is a flexible support that is adapted to the needs and goals of each person. Specific NDIS Support Coordination funding can be used to pay for this. So the first step is to contact us to see what can work for you and your family and to check funding requirements.

Then, Araluen’s dedicated NDIS Housing Options Coordinator can help find your best option and set you on the path to get there.

Some supports that we offer:

- Planning a path for future independent living
- Information about a wide range of independent and group living possibilities
- Assessment of independent living skills
- Transition planning
- Linking with services and programs to build your ability to move out of home
- Assistance locating a suitable, affordable property
- Assistance viewing and applying for private rentals and obtaining a lease
