Annual Report
2018

From the Chair

Araluen continues to thrive! We have seen an increase in participant numbers, who have many more options available, allowing them to follow their dreams and aspirations. Additionally, Araluen has strong and ethical governance and is in a solid financial position that helps us to achieve the best possible outcome for participants as well as for the organisation as a whole.

From this positive base, Araluen is able to plan for a bright, viable future. At present, we are developing our new Strategic Plan. This will ensure we continue to Imagine Better for our participants as we position ourselves to be a premier organisation providing high quality services.

Weekend programs have been introduced, and there has been a very good take-up by participants. Our Chancez Café brand continues to be highly regarded with more organisations looking to partner with us. The work with Melbourne Polytechnic has moved from strength to strength, particularly at the Greensborough site. Participants work alongside other students in classroom settings and are obtaining workplace-recognised qualifications.

It's exciting to see that over 30 participants have explored widely and found new housing that suits their particular needs and lifestyle. Many more are interested in pursuing the option of moving to a better home.

But, it is not just about our new supports. This year, we celebrated 10 years of our fabulous Arts Connects initiative at Montsalvat. Again this was another outstanding showing of our talented artists' work. It is a wonderful achievement for our artists to be recognised in such an iconic and amazing gallery.

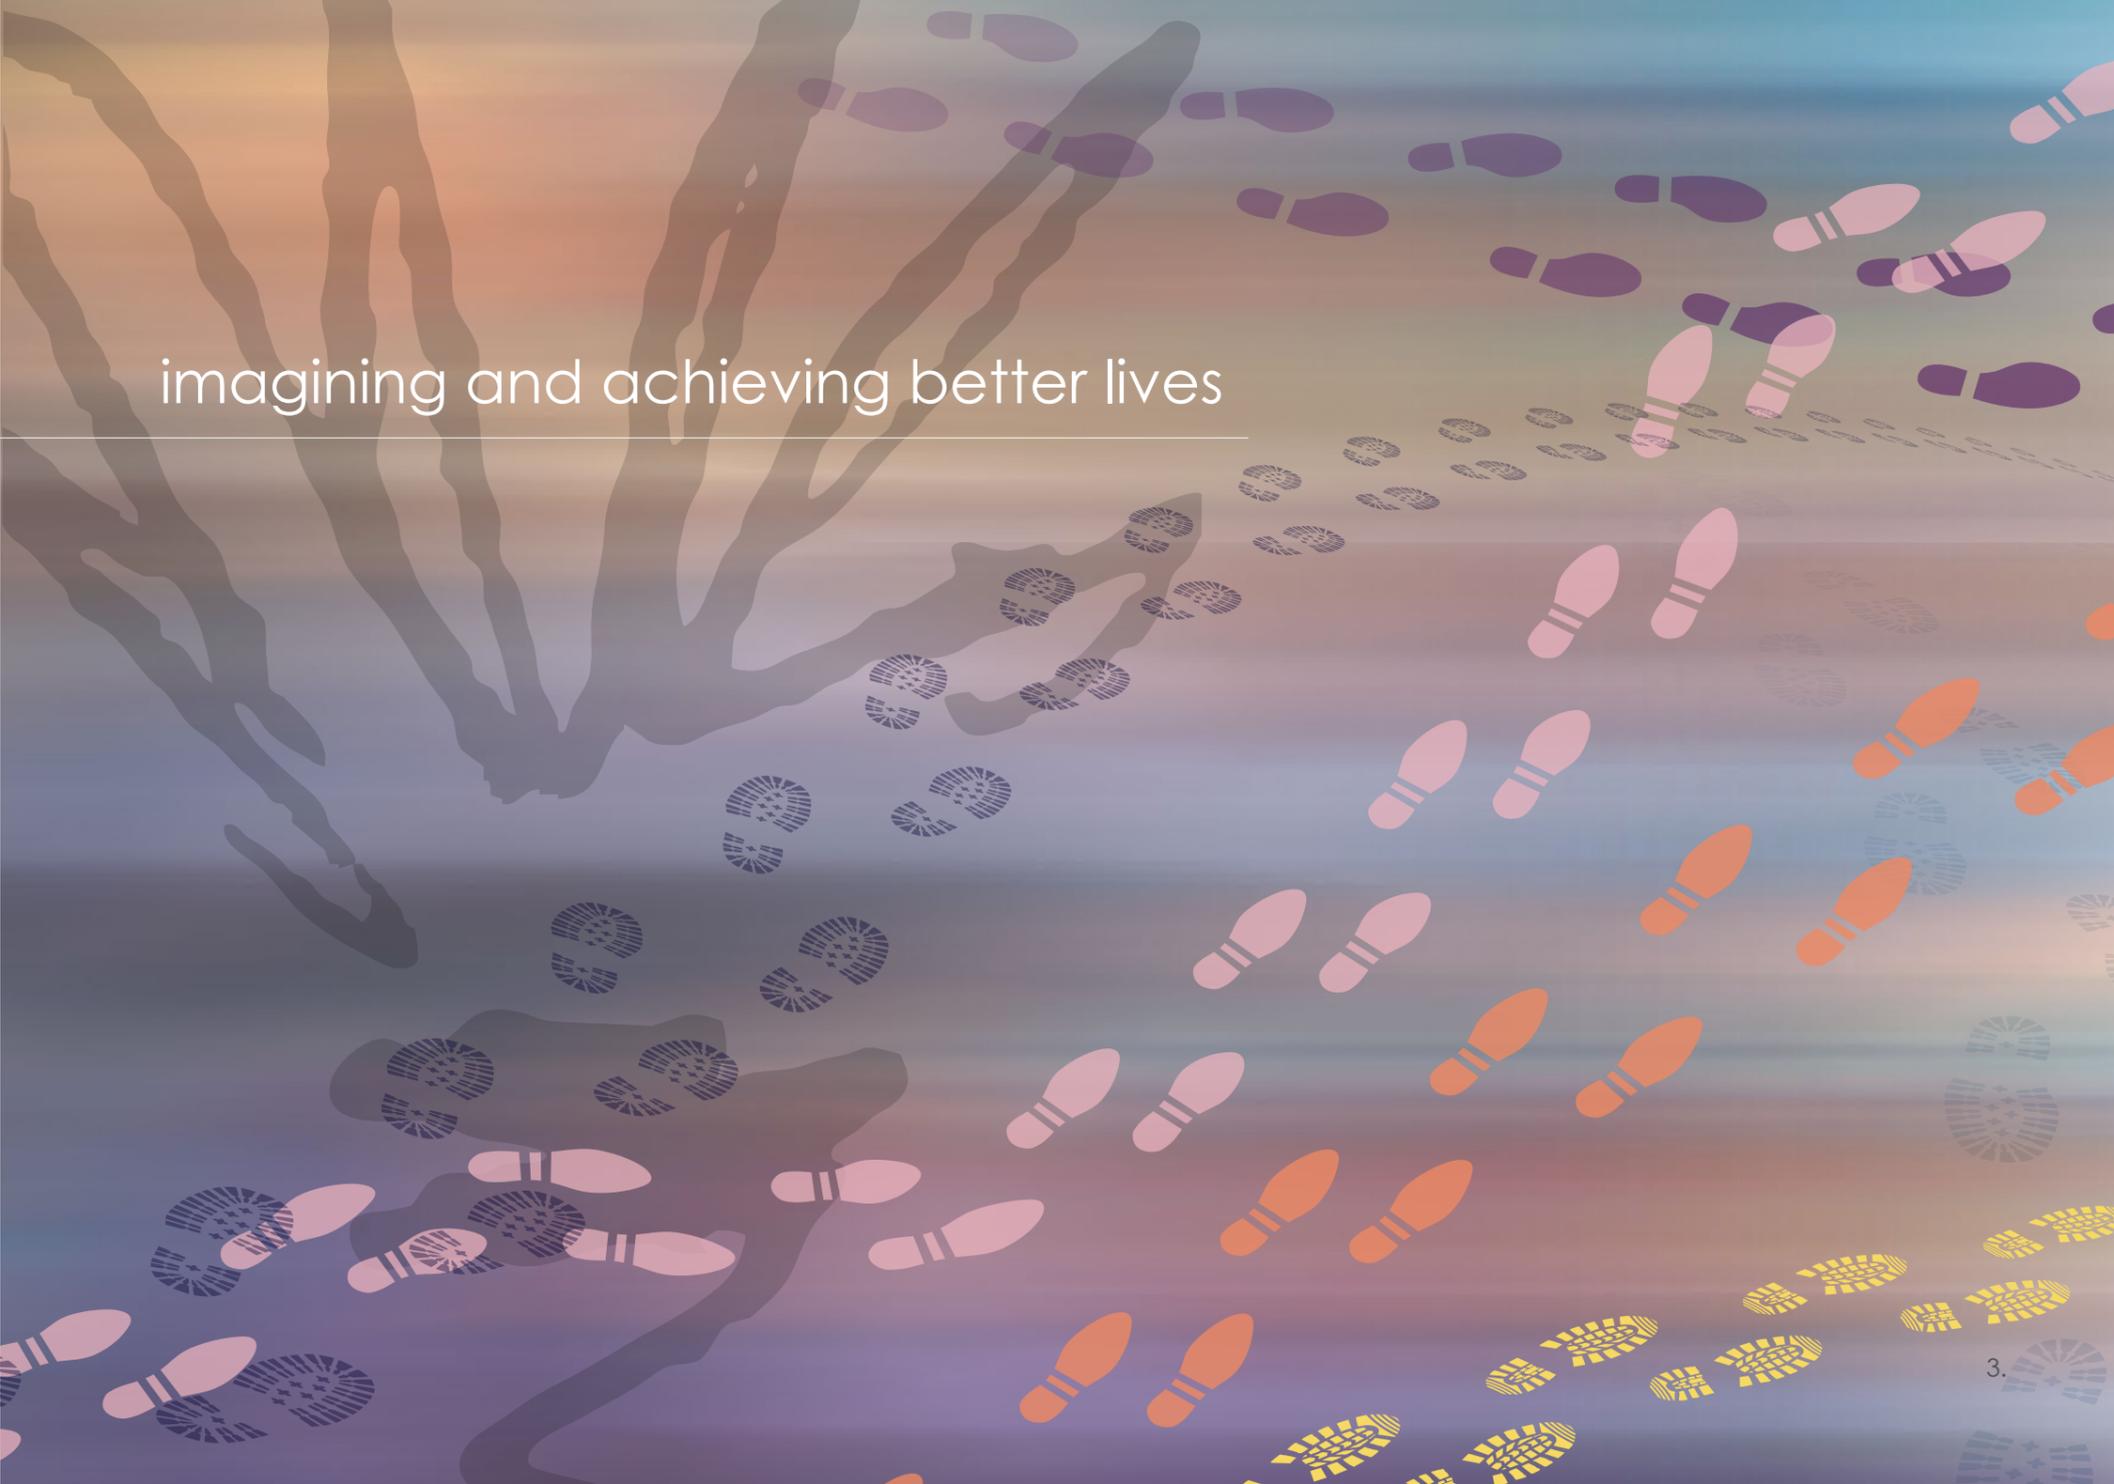

Of course, none of these achievements just happen. Our participants are looking for new opportunities. Araluen staff are up to the task, providing exceptional support for people to take new and exciting steps towards achieving their goals.

I would like to thank all of our staff and the Leadership team for their continued dedication and commitment to Araluen. It is always interesting to look back on where we have come from, where we are now and where we are heading. Araluen has grown in size, but we have not lost our vision, compassion and care for participants.

The years ahead will provide many challenges for us. We are ready for them and we are looking forward with excitement to what lies ahead for us.

imagining and achieving better lives

The year that was

The NDIS is changing the way Araluen operates and the supports we're offering. After facing the challenges that any major systemic change brings, the results of careful management and imaginative planning are emerging.

Participants can - and are - really starting with their dreams and forging new paths that will lead to their own uniquely designed "better life."

In a year of change and innovation, some achievements stand out. Araluen Primed has commenced providing supports from a dedicated base at Melbourne Polytechnic Greensborough, making higher learning within the mainstream education framework accessible to our participants.

The Melbourne Polytechnic partnership has also provided a state-of-the-art commercial facility where our third Chancez Cafe is now based. From here, participants are receiving industry-recognised Certificates and we will be able to expand Chancez offerings to include catering and baking services.

Chancez Cafes are in demand and another new alliance, this time with Whittlesea Community Futures Partnership, resulted in the opening of Chancez Cafe Mill Park Library. This is the first step to providing future supports in this rapidly expanding growth corridor.

It's exciting to see so much belief in the realisation that positive change is possible. Participants could not pursue their goals without the dedication and care of our staff who are as imaginative as they are passionate when it comes to plotting individual support paths and achieving great outcomes for each person. Once again, I thank Araluen's staff for another year of outstanding commitment to their work.

What we do

aspire, imagine and evolve

Araluen supports hundreds of individuals to imagine and achieve a better life. We do this by providing supports that build on individual strengths, creating opportunities for meaningful social and economic participation and forging rich relationships.

Our community is vibrant and people's opinions matter. Personal dignity matters here. It is the diverse aspirations of participants, and the unique vision each holds for a better future, that directly shapes the supports we deliver.

Araluen is the only service for adults with intellectual disability to have obtained internationally-recognised autism accreditation, and we hold HDAA certification as evidence of our ongoing commitment to maintaining high standards of quality assurance and safety.

Our Vision

Imagining and achieving better lives

Our Mission

Inspiring, empowering and supporting people to have great lives

Our Values

People-Focus

 in our approach

We facilitate, support, listen to, advocate for, encourage and enable participants to fulfil their goals and become their best. We maintain open, honest communication with family members and support networks. We are guided by respect for individual dignity in our decision making and interactions. We value our staff and their development.

Integrity

 in all our interactions

We adhere to our Code of Ethics and are committed to positive, trusting and respectful long-term relationships between all members of our community. We are determined to achieve our stated goals (as far as possible). We have a reporting culture that does not tolerate abuse and neglect.

Passionate

 about our work

We undertake our roles with enthusiasm and a positive attitude. We are committed to achieving great outcomes with our participants and their support networks, creatively developing new and unimagined opportunities for each individual.

Consistent with Araluen's inclusive approach, the Housing Support Network and Family & Carers Network hold open meetings that are attended by a range of people.

Araluen's Housing Options Team helped Shane successfully apply for Specialist Disability Accommodation funding - only 6% of NDIS recipients will achieve this. Shane now has a new home that meets his complex support needs and lifestyle goals.

2017-2018

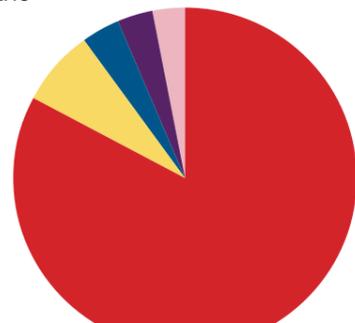

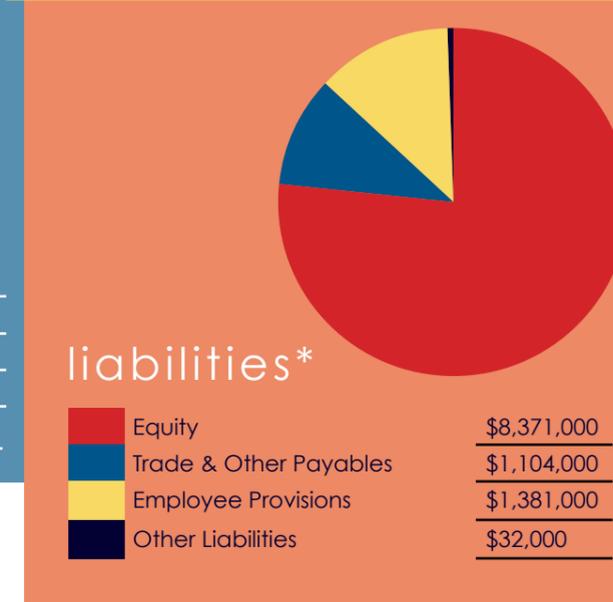

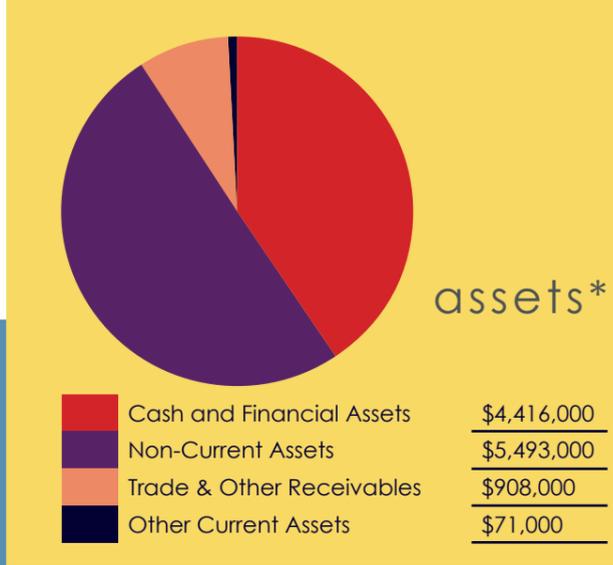

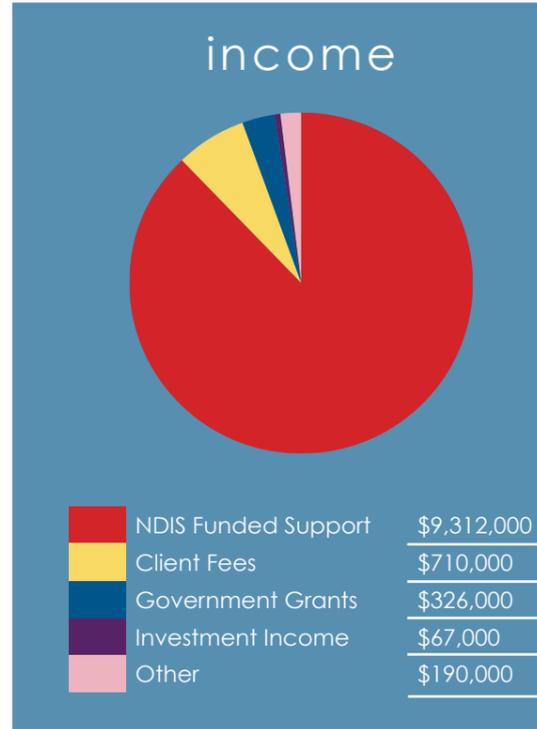

financial performance

A surplus of $1,409,717 was recorded for the year ended 30th June 2018 (prior year $765,843).

Government Grants provided $326,000 in operational funding for the year (prior year $2,745,000) and the NDIS funded supports provided $9,312,000 (prior year $4,540,000). Araluen completed the transition from state-based block funding to NDIS funded support and is now providing participants with additional supports that were not previously funded under the old block funding model.

financial position

Cash and Financial Assets increased by 70% compared to the prior year. This is largely due to the increase in surplus experienced in 2018. Trade and Other Receivables reduced 69% compared to prior year. Participants of Araluen are successfully working within the NDIS Portal and settling debts in a timely manner compared with the previous year.

expenditure

Employee Benefit Expenses	$7,612,000
Other	$683,000
Client Service Expenditure	$331,000
